RE: Proposed Umdloti Beach Far South Sewage Pump Station, Rising Main, Gravity Sewer Reticulation and Access Road: Project Cancellation Letter to all I&APs

The appointed professional environmental services, by 1World Consultants (Pty) Ltd (1WC), for the proposed Umdloti Beach Far South Sewage Pump Station, Rising Main, Gravity Sewer Reticulation and Access Road, eThekweni Municipality, KwaZulu-Natal refers. The following points have been listed for your attention;

1. The required Public Participation Process was undertaken for the abovementioned project, during which the following was found:
 - a. The proposed site allocated for construction of the pump station and access road, occurs within a conservation servitude, that has been earmarked as part of the neighbouring Sibaya development.
 - b. Majority of the affected Umdloti residents, as well as, members of the UIP who actively participated in this process, strongly opposed the proposed project.
2. The pump station is a crucial aspect of this project, as houses within the project area can only be connected to the existing sewer reticulation via pumping.
3. Taking this into consideration the eThekweni Municipality: Department of Water & Sanitation (EWS), has decided that they will no longer continue with this proposed project, until a new site for the pump station has been allocated and approved.

Should you require any further clarity on any of the information stated above, please do not hesitate to contact me, or Wasila Vorajee, on the details provided.

Yours faithfully,

Adila Gafoor B.Soc.Sci, IAIAAsa
